Illustrative list of cases assigned to morning/evening/shift/special magistrates' courts

The following is illustrative list of the cases, which have been assigned to morning/evening/special magistrate courts by various High Courts. While this list may be used for guidance by the High Courts, the High Courts and the State Governments may customize the same to suit the peculiar problems faced by the district and subordinate courts in those States. In deciding the categories of cases to be assigned to such Courts, priority should be given to those categories of cases, which contribute significantly to backlog. For example, in addition to the cases mentioned below, the States may also assign cases, which are not usually contested and are compoundable in nature to these Courts.

1. Cases pertaining to Motor Vehicles Act and ancillary regulations;
2. Cases pertaining to respective Shops and Establishments Act;
3. Cases pertaining to offences under Indian Penal Code and any other Act or rules where the punishment prescribed is non-custodial;
4. Cheque bouncing cases under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 ;
5. Petitions for maintenance under Section 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973;
6. Criminal revision against granting or refusing to grant interim maintenance under sub-section (3) of section 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 or maintenance under Section 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973;
7. Civil cases for recovery of money under Order XXXVII of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, where the claim is not more than Rs. 50,000/- (Rupees Fifty thousand);
8. Any other cases which may be transferred to the Morning/Evening Courts with the consent of the parties;
9. Petty offences such as:
 - (a) Section 320 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 Table I and II excluding offence under Section 324, 325, 335, 344, 357, 379, 381, 406, 407, 408, 411, 414, 418, 419, 420, 429, 430, 451 and 494 of the Indian Penal Code
 - (b) Section 160, 279, 294 and 336 of the Indian Penal Code; and
 - (c) all offences under any Act which are punishable with upto 2 (two) years of imprisonment.
